

Susanne DiPietro, J.D.

Susanne DiPietro is the Executive Director of the Alaska Judicial Council. The Alaska Judicial Council staffs the work of the Alaska Criminal Justice Commission, which is authorized by statute to make reports and recommendations to the Legislature to reform Alaska's criminal justice system.

Before coming to the Judicial Council, Susanne worked as the Judicial Education Coordinator for the Alaska Court System. She received her J.D. from Northwestern University in Chicago, and is a Fellow of the National Center for State Courts' Institute for Court Management. She is the author of a number of reports and articles on criminal and civil litigation procedures. She has served as a consultant to the court systems in Albania and Mongolia.
